

HELLA KLAUSER

Hella Klauser has been a member of the Executive Committee in her first term from 2019 to 2021 and a member of EBLIDA's Expert Group on Culture and Information Society (EGCIS) from 2008 to 2012.

Some biographical Information:

- Since 2005 responsible for international cooperation within the Network of Excellence for Libraries (knb) at the German Library Association (Deutscher Bibliotheksverband dbv) in Berlin, Germany
- Between 2013 - 2016 Head of the 'Libraries' Department at the Goethe-Institute (German cultural Institute), Head Office in Munich, Germany
- 1991 - 2003 Head of the libraries of the Goethe-Institutes in Tokyo, Japan, and Paris, France
- 1989-1991 Library Director at the German - American Institute (DAI) in Heidelberg
- Studies of library science (diploma) and comparative literature and linguistics (M.A.) at Stuttgart University, Germany
- Member of EBLIDA's Executive Committee 2019 – 2021
- Member of EBLIDA's Expert Group on Culture and Information Society (EGCIS) 2008 - 2012
- Member of the Standing Committee in section 'Management of Library Associations' of the International Federation of Library Associations IFLA 1st term (since 2017); before member of Standing Committee of IFLA section 'Management and Marketing' and involved in IFLA Special Interest Group NOIR.
- Since 2006 member of the German standing committee BI-International to promote international professional exchange
- Board member of the Association BID (Bibliothek Information Deutschland)
- Teaching international library science at the Bavarian Library Academy since 2019
- Various publications and lectures on international library topics

Contact: klauser@bibliotheksverband.de

[The umbrella organisation of German library associations "Bibliothek & Information Deutschland - BID, the Federal Association of German Library and Information Associations, has nominated Hella Klauser for the current elections as member of the EBLIDA Executive Committee.]